Movement off to her flank catches her eye. It is a heavily-armed Lucas.

15 EXT. WOODED OPENING - DAY 15

Lucas senses her presence and spins around only to see Nola drawing down on him. He attempts to access his weapon, only to reconsider, slowly pulling his hand away from the slung weapon.

Nola takes careful aim.

A bullet kicks up debris just a short distance from where she is standing followed by the distant blast of gunfire, luring her attention up to a ridge line from where the shot rang out. The distraction causes her to drop her weapon.

She scurries for potential cover but tries to return to her weapon only to encounter another bullet ripping up the ground next to the handgun. Nola retreats to cover.

Lucas is confused by the unknown gunfire and jumps to cover. He eyes Nola's position then up to the ridge line.

Movement is detected. Black Ops 1 runs across the hilltop to take cover. Lucas, gun ready, fires a shot at the intruder.

Black Ops 1, hit by Lucas' round, tumbles down the hill and comes to stop, motionless.

Lucas looks over at Nola. He sees her focus shift to just behind his position. He spins around to see a Russian Assassin, gun drawn and pointing directly at him.

A shot rings out. Blood splatters from Lucas' upper left arm, a result from the stinging bullet, throwing him off balance.

Lucas returns fire, striking the Russian Assassin in the right chest, wheeling him around and backwards. The Russian Assassin composes himself enough to take aim at Lucas again. Lucas pulls the trigger on his weapon, this time resulting in a distinct metal snap instead of firing.
